Privacy Policy

Your privacy is important to us. It is artinvogue's policy to respect your privacy regarding any information we may collect on the artinvogue website, and other sites we own and operate.

We ask for personal information only when we really need it to provide you with a service. We do so by fair and legal means, with your knowledge and consent. We also inform you why we are collecting it and how it will be used.

We only retain collected information for as long as necessary to provide the requested service. When we store data, we protect it within commercially acceptable means to prevent loss and theft, as well as unauthorized access, disclosure, copying, use, or modification.

We do not share personally identifiable information publicly or with third parties, except when required by law.

Our website may link to external sites that are not operated by us. Please be aware that we have no control over the content and practices of these sites and cannot accept responsibility for their respective privacy policies.

You are free to refuse our request for personal information, understanding that we may not be able to provide some of the desired services.

Continued use of our website will be considered acceptance of our practices regarding privacy and personal information. If you have any questions about how we handle user data and personal information, please contact us.

User Commitment

The user agrees to make appropriate use of the content and information that artinvogue offers on the site and with an enunciative, but not limited, character:

- A) Not to engage in activities that are illegal or contrary to good faith and public order;
- B) Not to disseminate propaganda or content of a racist, xenophobic nature, where ball or gambling, any kind of illegal pornography, advocacy of terrorism, or against human rights;
- C) Not to cause damage to the physical (hardware) and logical (software) systems of artinvogue, its suppliers or third parties, to introduce or disseminate computer viruses or any other hardware or software systems that are capable of causing the aforementioned damages.

More info

We hope this is clear and, as mentioned earlier, if there is something you are not sure whether you need or not, it is generally safer to leave cookies enabled in case you interact with one of the features you use on our site.

This policy is effective as of June/2024.
